BURGLARS ENTER TWO TOWNSTORES

Big Haul Made at One Place while Second Loses only a Few Dollars. Gain Entrance by Climbing up Rope.

Burglars entered the Gettysburg Department Store and the People's Cash Store at an early hour this morning, taking from the first place $300 in cash and various articles, and at the other store $5.00 in cash. The robbers made a successful getaway after working quietly, and nothing at all is held as a clue to apprehend them.

Entrance to the Department Store was gained through the rear portion of the building in which there is a freight elevator. Climbing up the rope one of the men must have hung there for several minutes while he pried open a second story window. Entrance to the entire store room was then easy and almost every department was visited.

The boldest feature of the whole robbery was the removal from the display window fronting on Baltimore street of a $35.00 rifle. It was wired fast to the woodwork but the thief took the time to pry it off. This rifle and another one were found this morning outside of the store. It is believed that, while one of the visitors operated in the front part of the store, the other stood watch.

From cases near the front window there were taken twelve watches, three razors, eight revolvers, knives, flash lights and batteries. Farther back in the hardware department of the store is located the cash register and all the drawers in this machine were looted. Each contained some change but the entire amount taken from it is not supposed to have aggregated more than $10.00. The office was the scene of action next.

Here every desk was ransacked. From one they took $1.50, from another $2.50, from another $5.00, and other small amounts together with several dollars worth of stamps.

The second story of the building was not neglected and here the thieves got away with a suit case and a traveling bag which formed part of the Sperry and Hutchinson Green Trading Stamp premium exhibit. It is believed that most of the loot was put into these two bags and the fact that the rifles could not be put into them was a possible reason for not taking the rifles along.

Orange peel on the floor showed where the robbers paused a few minutes for refreshment while carrying on their operations. One of their biggest hauls was in the Victrola department of the store. Here they took the best records on hand and an inventory taken this morning showed that $150.00 worth of the Red Seal records had been removed. They were worth from $1.00 to $5.00 each. So far as is known no groceries were taken and practically everything that the thieves selected could be contained in the traveling bag and suit case, so that there would be no trouble in making an easy and rapid departure.

At the People's Cash Store it was not so difficult to gain entrance. Here they operated in the alley between the McPherson block and the Stock building and pried open a rear window. Nothing was disturbed, so far as can be seen except the cash register. To prevent its being broken by intruders Mr. Gilliland always has it left unlocked at night. Three of the drawers were standing open and from two of them $5.00 was taken.

The front portion of the other drawer was empty and the thieves did not take the trouble to examine the concealed section. By this oversight they missed several dollars more.

In a number of surrounding towns similar burglaries have taken place within the past ten days and it is supposed that the perpetrators of Sunday night's raid here may be the same gang of men. County Detective Charles H. Wilson has been given the local case for investigation.

NO DEDICATION UNTIL NEXT YEAR

Virginia Monument will not be Completed until April According to Latest Word from Richmond. Lee not on Traveler.

The published reports of the probable dedication of the Virginia monument this fall are contradicted by the following dispatch from Richmond, Virginia, under date of October 24, to the "Public Ledger."

Sievers' equestrian statue of General Robert E. Lee, the Confederate chieftain, which is to stand on the battlefield at Gettysburg, has been completed and is now ready to be cast in bronze. Many persons, including Governor Stuart, visited the sculptor's studio on Forest Hill to-day and inspected the model.

The statue, which is to stand on a granite pedestal 22 feet high, is itself 14 feet in height. In front of it will stand the group of seven figures completed by Sievers some months ago and already cast in bronze.

As soon as the molds of the statue are made they will be shipped to the Tiffany Studios on Long Island. It is expected that the bronze castings will be completed by next April.

The figure of General Lee is one and three-fourths life size. The horse is not Traveler, his favorite steed, but is a typical war charger. General Lee is depicted with hat in hand. Field glasses are suspended from his shoulders. He is supposed to be watching Pickett's charge from the crest of a hill overlooking the Gettysburg battlefield.

The Lee statue and group will cost about $50,000. Sievers worked on the equestrian figure for three years.

SHEET METAL CUT OFF HER FINGERS

Eighty Year Old Woman Painfully Hurt in Odd Manner. Heavy Roll May have Inflicted Internal Injuries not yet Apparent.

One of the most peculiar accidents to occur within the bounds of the county for some time happened this morning to Miss Sarah Flickinger, an eighty year old resident of Abbotstown, when four fingers of her right hand were cut off by a roll of sheet iron that fell from the roof of her house.

Miss Flickinger had engaged Henry Dull and another nearby tinner to replace the shingle roof of her residence with a metal roofing and she was in the yard picking up fallen shingles to use as fire wood when a roll of the metal rolled down the sharp incline of the roof and landed with its sharp edge upon her outstretched hand as she stooped to gather a shingle.

She was unable to heed the warning shouts of the workmen before the heavy roll of metal crashed against her. It is feared that the weight of the iron falling against her caused other injuries which, due to her advanced age, may prove fatal.

She is a sister of the late Squire John Flickinger, who was well known throughout the county.

FOOLING THE PEOPLE

Lincoln Way Association Warns of Misuse of Name.

From time to time reports have come to the national headquarters of the Lincoln Highway Association of misuse of the name Lincoln Highway and the devices and insignia of the Association for private ends and commercial profit.

In every instance of this kind public opinion has been with the Lincoln Highway Association in its efforts to bring those infringing on the Association's rights to justice, and the right to the sole use of the name Lincoln Highway, the markers and other devices of the incorporated Association has been universally upheld in the courts.

The latest instance of an attempted infringement on the rights of the Lincoln Highway Association and to impose upon the patriotic public-spiritedness of those interested in the progress of the work, is in Pennsylvania, where it is reported that several individuals are traveling along the route of the Lincoln Highway securing subscriptions for a Lincoln Highway magazine, without any connection or authority from the Lincoln Highway Association National Headquarters. The Lincoln Highway Association is sending out a warning to all those interested in its work that only those persons appointed and constituted as representatives of the Association, and having proof of such appointment, are authorized to collect funds or to secure subscriptions for any publication.

GAVE OPEN AIR SUFFRAGE SPEECH

Gettysburg Lawyer and Local Clergy-men Respond to Call to Address People of Biglerville on Live Question.

An open-air suffrage meeting was held in Biglerville Saturday evening which, by invitation, was addressed by John D. Keith, Esq., and Rev. J. B. Baker. Mrs. Helen Keith and Mrs. S. McC. Swope accompanied them and were cordially welcomed by the women of Biglerville, who were comfortably accommodated during the speaking on nearby porches.

There was a good and attentive audience. Mr. Keith's talk was strictly from a masculine view-point, looking backward upon our country's history, in its achievements for liberty and enfranchisement and the reasons at present for granting the vote to women.

Rev. Mr. Baker's speech embodied the duties and privileges of women in the homes, in the schools, in civic and in reform movements. A message from Judge Swope endorsing the movement was enthusiastically received.

At a meeting of Gettysburg suffrage workers on Saturday it was decided to hold a special meeting before election when the Men's League will be asked to consider with them the advisability of conducting special activities, with workers at the polls, on election day.

TOURIST PARTY HIT BY TRAIN

Were on their Way to Gettysburg when Reading Engine Struck their Car and Overturned it. All Caught under Machine.

Seven persons en route from Hummelstown to Gettysburg on Saturday had a remarkable escape from death, when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a train on the Middletown and Hummelstown branch of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway. All were to have been guests at the home of Mrs. Guyon H. Buehler, Carlisle street.

The accident occurred at the Main street grade crossing, Hummelstown. The auto was sideswiped and was turned over into the ditch, the occupants falling under the car. Those in the car were:

Ralph Holligan, chauffeur, Philadelphia, left leg badly cut and bruised, head cut, and internal injuries. Mr. and Mrs. John H. Gay, Philadelphia, scalp wounds, slight lacerations of the face and body bruises. Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Barnes, Philadelphia, scalp wounds. Miss Mary Fox, Hummelstown, slight cuts and bruises. Robert T. Fox, assistant district attorney, Hummelstown, slight cuts and bruises.

The engine sideswiped the automobile turning the car over the ditch near the road. All the passengers fell under the car. The chauffeur was pinned fast in the front of the car. The members of the Reading crew, with the aid of passengers from the train and passengers from a Harrisburg Railways Company car which arrived at the scene of the accident soon after it occurred, removed the injured from beneath the wrecked automobile.

With the exception of the chauffeur whose leg is badly injured, the occupants of the car were able to walk to another automobile, which had been called.

The engineer said he was running very slowly, not more than five miles an hour. He runs slowly because he does not get a full view of the crossing until he turns the curve.

County Office Important

Many voters are of the opinion that the incumbent of the Court House office is of little importance to them. They reason because they do not come in personal contact with the office holder that his being capable or mediocre is a matter of small concern. This idea is entirely wrong and particularly so in the office of Register and Recorder where the official is the custodian of documents representing the county's total real estate holdings.

The work of this office is con fining and laborious and it requires a deftness that is only the outcome of experience, to do it quickly and well.

CHARLES W. GARDNER has had experience in this line; he is eminently responsible and he respectfully asks you to help those friends who know him and want him back with your vote next Tuesday.

BULGARS AND TEUTONS NEAR

Invading Armies Are Near a Junction.

THE SERBIANS ARE ISOLATED

King Ferdinand's Troops Capture Uskub as the Austro-Germans Gain in the North.

London, Oct. 25.—The Bulgarians, according to their official report, have reached Uskup, an important junction on the Salonika-Nish railway, and have thus placed themselves across the route by which the allies' reinforcements for the Serbs would travel. The Austro-Germans, in the north, have begun a more vigorous offensive and have crossed the Danube near Orsova. This brings much nearer the linking up of the armies of the German allies and those of Bulgaria, and the opening of the way through Bulgaria to Constantinople.

Success is not being achieved without heavy losses, as the Serbians, veterans, well entrenched in their mountains, are offering stubborn resistance and are making the invaders pay a big price for every mile of country invaded.

French troops are fighting beside the Serbs in the southeastern district, and reports from Athens say that other steps are being taken by the allies to help their small partner. Additional troops are being landed at Salonika; Bulgarian ports in the Aegean and Black seas are being bombarded, and it is believed that men and munitions will be sent to Serbia by still another route. Without the active co-operation of Greece and Rumania, however, the allies, it is feared here, will not be able to do much for some weeks.

A despatch from Salonika to the Havas News agency says that, according to information obtained in official sources, French forces attacked the Bulgarians Wednesday evening south of Strumitza and captured Nabova. Fighting, it is stated, still is going on in this region.

The Serbians on Friday counter-attacked the Bulgarians at Veles and retook half of the city, the other half remaining under fire of the Serbian cannon.

The action of the Bulgarians in old Serbia is said to be subsiding.

The Austro-German advance on the Serbian front, according to the official advices, has stopped. It is stated that it did not exceed seven miles in extent.

Bulgarian forces on the Aegean shore have left for the northern Serbian front, says a message to the Exchange Telegraph company, from Athens. These troops have been replaced by five Turkish divisions, which now are charged with the defense of the Bulgarian coast.

Reliable information, the despatch adds, places the strength of the Bulgarian forces on the Serbian front at seven divisions, of which four are operating in the region of Pirat and Kufazevac.

GERMAN CRUISER SUNK

Petrograd Says British Submarine Destroyed Warship.

Petrograd, Oct. 25.—The following official statement was issued here: "A British submarine has sunk a German cruiser of the Prince Adalbert type near Libau."

There originally were two German armored cruisers of this type, the Prinz Adalbert and the Friedrich Karl. The latter struck a mine in the Baltic last November and was lost with 357 lives. The Prinz Adalbert was completed at Kiel in 1903 and ranked as an armored cruiser. She was of 9050 tons displacement, 384 feet long. She carried four 8.2 inch and ten 6-inch guns and had a speed of twenty-one knots. Her complement was 557 men.

RUSSIANS BOMBARD COAST

Land Troops Near Domenech and Engage the Germans.

London, Oct. 25.—Their frontal attacks against the Russian lines held in check, the German forces seeking to seize Russia's great seaport are now seriously threatened by a flank attack directed from the coast of Courland.

Under cover of Russian war ships, which bombarded Detrago, Domenech and Ipoen, on the north coast of Courland, the Russians landed troops near Domenech. The Russians came into contact with the extreme German left immediately after landing near Domenech, which is at the tip of the cape marking the western side of the entrance to the Gulf of Riga. Ipoen is some miles to the westward.

Hold Apples for Rise in Market

Glassboro, Oct. 25.—A bumper crop of apples of all varieties is being gathered throughout south Jersey this fall, but like peaches, prices are low and large quantities of the fruit are being placed in storage to await a rise in the market. RUSSIA PLANS

$2,750,000,000 LOAN

Finance Minister Authorized to Issue Bonds.

Petrograd, Oct. 25.—An imperial ukase authorizes the Russian minister of finance to contract in foreign markets credits operations amounting to $2,750,000,000, and also to issue abroad the necessary treasury bonds in pounds, francs and dollars.

Explaining his plans to a representative of the press, Pierre Bark, finance minister, said the whole fiscal system of Russia would be reformed on the basis of the income tax, which already has been approved by the duma and now was under consideration by the council of the empire.

All textiles, he said, also will be taxed, which will bring into the treasury $75,000,000 annually.

Schemes for creating tea, sugar and match monopolies are being worked out.

The question of a six per cent. internal loan shortly will be determined, as the Russian money market is rich in resources, the proof of which, said the minister, will be found in the recent official statement that current deposits in private banks had reached the marvelous total of $2,000,000,000, and that the increase in deposits accounts for the year ending in September amounted to $350,000,000, while the savings bank deposit monthly increase was $25,000,000.

FIRE DESTROYS CHURCH

Bridgeport Structure Burns While Class Meets in Basement.

Bridgeport, N. J., Oct. 25.—Wesley Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, North Bridgeport, a large frame structure, was burned to the ground. A class meeting was being held in the basement when a man ran in and exclaimed: "Your church is on fire!" The meeting came to a sudden end.

A fire was built in the heater and soon flames broke out from the chimney, where it passed through the roof. Lack of sufficient water pressure handicapped the firemen, but the structure was doomed from the start, owing to high wind. Half a dozen houses across Pearl street caught fire and for a time it looked as if the whole block would go. Milville was asked for help and its new auto fire truck was sent the ten miles across the turnpike, but the trip was useless.

The church has been so prosperous that a $3000 addition had just been built to it to accommodate the growing congregation, and was ready for furnishing. The total loss is $15,000, with insurance of $6000.

REPULSE EIGHT GERMAN ATTACKS

Furious Fighting in the Forest of Givenchy.

INFANTRY LOSSES HEAVY

Kaiser's Troops Are Decimated by French Guns as Soon as They Leave Trenches.

Paris, Oct. 25.—The eighth attack within five days against the French front in the Forest of Givenchy was delivered by the Germans Saturday night. It ended, as had the seven that preceded it, in absolute failure. Sanginary losses were inflicted on the Kaiser's infantry by the French, who opened a devastating fire on their foes at the moment the Germans attempted to leave their trenches.

German barriades and field fortifications at various points in Champagne, in eastern France, and in Lorraine were demolished Saturday night by an extremely heavy shell fire from the consolidated French field batteries.

The French directed their greatest effort against the positions southeast of Tahure, Champagne, where the German line forms a salient in the French battle front. The bombardment on this sector was particularly effective.

The other sectors on which German field works were destroyed by the French were those between the Meuse and the Moselle and the line in Lorraine between Emmerent and Domèvre.

The unexplained artillery combats south of the river Somme, near Li-hons and Beuvraignes, which have been in progress for weeks, became unusually violent Saturday night. All indications tend to the belief that a general battle is being developed in that region.

The war office statement says: "The Germans again attempted an attack on our positions in the wood of Givenchy and on our advanced posts in the neighborhood of Hill No. 140. Many of the Germans were even cut down the moment they left their trenches and the survivors were compelled to return to their positions."

"The last five days we have checked the enemy eight times in this region alone."

"The artillery struggle remains very active and is almost uninterrupted to the south of the Somme in the region of Li-hons, Canny and Beuvraignes."

"Moreover, our batteries by their efficacious fire have succeeded in destroying some of the enemy's trenches and works in the Champagne, to the southeast of Tahure; between the Meuse and the Moselle, to the north of Regneville, and in Lorraine, near Emmerent and Domèvre."

RIDES OFF WITH SON

Father, on Horseback, Kidnaps Boy in Wilmington.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 25.—In wild west fashion, William Bullock got possession of his three-year-old son, who has been living with his mother at her parents' home at 1232 Tatnall street.

The boy was playing on the porch in front of the house when Bullock rode up on horseback. Pulling the animal up over the sidewalk, he reached over the porch railing, caught the child about the waist and dragged him into the saddle with him. Bullock then put spurs to the animal and dashed off.

A boy saw him and notified the police. The police patrol was sent in pursuit. After searching through the city the horse was finally found hitched to a post at Sixteenth and French streets, several blocks distant.

The boy and his father, however, could not be found and the police think he abandoned the horse after doubling on his tracks and boarded a trolley car.

Mr. and Mrs. Bullock's domestic troubles were recently aired in court.

ITALIANS TAKE AUSTRIAN STRONGHOLD

Goritz Falls Before Artillery and Infantry Attacks.

Rome, Oct. 25.—Goritz, the key to entire campaign on the Isonzo, has fallen before the combined artillery and infantry attacks of the Italians, according to news brought to Rome by staff officers who have just returned from field headquarters.

These officers further report that the results of the Italian offensive begun several days ago on the entire front from the Alps to the sea, are much more important than has been announced in the official reports from General Cadorna, chief of staff, which have been given out by the war office.

Official information on the extent of the Italian gains in Tyrol and on the Isonzo are, they say, withheld until the positions conquered by the Italian troops are consolidated and their advance is made a permanent victory. According to these officers, Goritz, the Austrian stronghold on the Isonzo, fell three days ago.

The Italian general staff has made no secret of its belief that the fall of Goritz means a clear road to Trieste, the great Austrian port at the head of the Adriatic, which is the chief Italian objective in the campaign.

ELOPERS FOOL EVEN PAPA

In Disguises and Separately, They Also Get Past Spotters.

Pottsville, Pa., Oct. 25.—Miss Lulu Sterner, known as the prettiest girl in Schuylkill Haven, and her fiancé, Russell R. Smith, of Glenwood, succeeded in getting through a cordon of state police and county constables stationed to intercept them, and reached Elkton, Md., where they were married.

The parents of both opposed the match, and even went to the extent of having trains from Pottsville bound to the Maryland border searched.

To avoid detention, the couple separated, and both were disguised. Smith, clad in an old overcoat and wearing a pair of dark spectacles, passed right before his bride's father without being recognized.

New Stars.

Many questions have been asked in regard to the probable fate of new stars, after they have ceased to attract special attention. It has been shown that such stars which have appeared in recent years have been converted into nebulae, and later, in many cases, into extremely faint stars of apparently normal condition.

SUMMER CAPITOL JERSEY TO GIVE

President to Direct His 1916 Campaign From "White House by the Sea."

BEAUTIFUL HOME; WILSONS WELCOME

Shadow Lawn One of the Most Significant Places on Entire Atlantic Coast.

IN 1912, when Woodrow Wilson was nominated and elected president of the United States, he elected his campaign headquarters from the coast of New Jersey. And when he is busy with the 1916 campaign as leader of his party he will occupy a house near the same spot.

The action of the president in agreeing to rent Shadow Lawn, the estate at Liberty, N. J., near Long Branch, has brought joy to the hearts of the Jerseyites.

Shadow Lawn, the millionaire home of the late John A. McCull, has had a varied career since it was built some thirteen years ago.

Mr. McCull was president of the New York Life Insurance company, and Shadow Lawn was considered one of the most beautiful summer homes in America. It stands on a hill in the center of about forty acres of rolling land which have been beautified by every art of the landscape gardener. The house is of colonial design, from plans by Henry Edward Cresson, and the numerous observation towers, columns and barns are all built in perfect harmony with the landscape.

Approaching the house from the main entrance to the grounds through a wide branching stairway of marble connect the two stories.

As its popular title implies, the mansion is white, with a red tiled roof which supports two pavilions, surrounded with fluted columns. Over the north pavilion is a spacious roof garden. The interior is a blend of Italian renaissance and English gothic and classic renaissance styles. The drawing room is adorned with rich portieres, and its woodwork is of decorated ivory enamel. The dining room is marked by ornate fluted columns, embellished doors and mantel, with dark mahogany woods for a back ground. The billiard room, done in panels of red, with beams and elaborate tracery of black oak, is a treasure room of gothic embellishment and medieval carved figures. A long promenade on the roof adds a characteristic of a battlemented castle.

On the main floor at the entrance is a hall measuring 75 by 85 feet, with a stairway twenty-five feet wide at the base to the mezzanine floor and branching out into a promenade gallery surrounding an open court 29 by 55 feet, surrounded by a glass dome. On this gallery and the one on the third floor open the bedroom suits. The suit to be used by the president and his wife had the most beautiful view in America. In explanation of this statement he said that Mrs. White, although possessed of a beautiful high soprano voice, refused to sing in public, so he hoped that the beauty of the mezzanine floor would appeal to her and result in her singing to her friends at least. White occupied the house for a season and entertained lavishly, but in 1903 failed to meet his obligations on the property, and it was sold at sheriff's sale on May 25, 1903, to Myron H. Oppenheim for $103,000 above a $100,000 mortgage held by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company. White stated that he wanted to start a bungalow colony on the property, but the scheme never materialized.

Offered to Taft.

In April, 1904, a syndicate of prominent Jerseyites attempted to raise by subscription enough to buy the property and present it to the United States government as a summer White House. It was also offered to President Taft at the same time for the summer. After receiving the delegation and listening to its offer President Taft said that "he would have to consult a higher authority," which he later admitted to be his wife.

While these negotiations were pending the announcement of the sale of the property to J. B. Greenhut was made, and the matter was dropped.

Mr. Greenhut, who retains the ownership of the property, has spent thousands of dollars during recent years in beautifying the property and adding costly trees and shrubs.

The Jersey coast "pointed with pride" to an estate which Captain Greenhut had developed until it was one of the finest in the country, and there is no doubt that in accepting Shadow Lawn as a "summer White House" President Wilson has gone far toward bringing to a realization the hope of long stand-

GOOD DAY FOR TEAMS

Foot Ball Followers Had Much over which to be Elated.

Saturday was a successful day for the foot ball eleven representing Gettysburg. The college team won from St. John's on Nixon Field 18 to 0. The High School tied the Scotland Orphans' School 13-13 at Scotland. The College Reserves won from the Shippensburg Normal School at that place 25 to 0.

Gettysburg scored her first touchdown in the early stages of the game on line bucks by Rowe to within striking distance of the goal from where Early took it over. St. John's outlasted Gettysburg in the second and third periods but in the fourth, heavier players were sent to the Gettysburg line-up and smashed through for two touchdowns. Early making the first on seven successive plunges, and Hoar the second after a twenty yard run and line bucks. All three goals were easy but were missed, a matter that is causing some concern in view of coming games at which such failure may result in the loss of the battle.

The Scotland boys got two touchdowns in the first quarter of the game there but were held safe for the balance of the time. In the third period Horner picked up a blocked kick and ran 75 yards to within ten yards of the goal line from where Miller took it over. A forward pass, Miller to Spangler, yielded the final score.

The normal school boys proved no match for the Scrubs and the second string men got an easy victory at Shippensburg.

Avoiding Danger in Mines.

It is fairly a problem to install motors, controllers and other apparatus in mines in such a way as to avoid the danger of igniting fire damp. Modern practice in Europe now provides three protecting methods—all inclosed, partly inclosed, with use of wire gauze, plates, and oil bath apparatus. Various apparatus, such as transformer controllers and switches, need to have a special design for use in mines, not only on account of fire damp, but because of prevailing dampness and mist.

Nails Used in Surgery.

It is said that common iron nails are now successfully used by surgeons in the repair of broken bones. The nails, which are used to hold the pieces in place while the healing process goes on, are soon covered with a sort of rust-resisting membrane and their presence occasions no trouble or ill effects. St. Louis City (La.) surgeons report cases in which nails and even iron stovepipe wire have been used for this purpose.

SHADOW LAWN, EXTERIOR AND INTERIOR VIEWS, AND ONE OF ITS FUTURE OCCUPANTS.

massive gateway, there is a series of wide granite steps, from either side of which extends in a semicircle a granite balustrade. Beyond is a circular portico of stone, the roof of which, on a level with the roof of the house, is supported by classic stone columns. Groups of evergreen trees soften the lines of the gateway and portico, and the walls of the house are covered with trailing vines.

Spacious Hallways.

The main hallway is lofty and spacious. The grand social hall measures 70 by 85 feet and the grand staircase is 25 feet wide at the base. There is a large mezzanine floor, furnished as a music room, and on the next floor there is a promenade hall, surrounding an open court, flanked from above through an art glass dome. The promenade on the third floor is used as an art gallery, the chambers, dressing rooms and bedrooms opening off the hallway.

Ivory color predominates in the social hall, the fluted pillars, arches and balustrades being of that hue. The walls are hung with green tapestries, having Greek border effects, and the color scheme is carried out in the portieres, rugs and hangings. The two enormous mantels are of mahogany, as are the folding doors. The electric fixtures are pale Pompeian bronze filled with amber colored glass. Antique bronze vases flank the main staircase.

Throughout the house the furnishings are most artistic and expensive. The drawing room is done in Nile green, silver and ivory and has an Italian renaissance mantelpiece, while the billiard room is finished in English gothic style, all the woodwork being elaborately carved.

Off the central hall are drawing rooms, dining rooms, billiard and card rooms. The bedrooms are arranged around the second floor galleries. Very is finished in old blue with a ceiling of cream white and ivory woodwork.

Mr. McCull Sells Estate.

Mr. McCull occupied the residence for a couple of seasons, and while he was ill, just after the famous insurance investigation, Myron H. Oppenheim began negotiations for the purchase of the property. The transaction dragged along until just before Mr. McCull's death, when it was closed. It was rumored at the time that Mr. Oppenheim paid not more than $300,000.

When Mr. Oppenheim took possession of the property he announced his intention of turning it into a country club. Members were to subscribe $25,000 each, and the membership was to be not more than 500. Several men went into the scheme, and it was to be called the "Track Lawn Country Club." However, Mr. Oppenheim found that the plan was abandoned.

In August, 1903, Abraham White, then president of the De Forest Wire Rope Cable Company, visited Shadow Lawn and, after looking over the place very carefully, opened negotiations for its purchase.

In 1903 Mr. White had practically no money. He invested 44 cents in postage stamps and, with an order that amounted Wall Street, borrowed $1,000,000 on no other more than notes signed by himself and by wife, getting part of the amount from Russell Sage. With this he made a gold deposit required on an issue of government bonds being put out by Secretary of the Treasury, Charles, putting in 100,000 and 112. He set the bonds and made a big cleanup.

House Again Sold.

About the middle of August, 1906 White closed negotiations for Shadow Lawn, paying, it was said at the time, $500,000. At that time he said he bought the property because his wife ing held by many that some day Shadow Lawn will be the official summer home of presidents of the United States for all time.

Mr. McCull bought the fifty-eight acres of farm land more than a dozen years ago for $1,000 from the Hulse, Abbott, Henderon and Fiddick estates, a stretch of elevated land within sight of the ocean near Long Branch. A single story farmhouse stood near the middle of Mr. McCull's new holdings, and away from the farmhouse stretched unattractive cornfields.

Henry Edward Griest was the architect selected by Mr. McCull for the home he had in view. While plans were in the making Mr. McCull assembled land agents and gardeners and architects of laborers. The cornfield landmarks disappeared. The surface ground was turned over, rich subsoil was spread, and daily the cornfields disappeared to give way to drives and terraces, walks and the pond, lawns, shade trees and beautiful old fashioned gardens.

In the middle of the acres arose the mansion of classic columns approached by wide granite steps. The portico leads into a wide central hall surrounded by two tiers of wide galleries, the hall being covered with a brilliant colored glass dome 100 feet above the floor.

"CERTIFICATES OF GLORY."

French Proposal to Grant Them For Lives Lost in War.

The creation of a "certificate of glory" to perpetuate in families the memory of members who died for their country in the war now in progress, suggested by Deputy Carre-Bouais, is being considered by the French cabinet.

It is proposed to have the certificate a parchment on which the name of the hero would be inscribed, with an expression of the nation's gratitude signed by the president of the republic.

Vinol

CREATES STRENGTH FOR WEAK WOMEN

AND RUN-DOWN PEOPLE

Recommended by The Mother Superior, Rosary Hill Home

Hawthorne, N.Y. — "I have been at work among the sick and poor for nearly eighteen years, and whenever I have used Vinol for run-down, weak or emaciated patients they have been visibly benefited by it. One patient, a young woman, was so weak and ill she could hardly creep to my door for aid, and was leaning on a friend's arm. I supplied Vinol to her liberally, and in a month when she returned to thank me I hardly recognized her. She was strong, her color charming and her cheeks rounded out. These words are uttered from my heart, in order that more people may know about Vinol, as there is nothing makes me happier in the world than to relieve the sick." — Mother M. ALPHONSE LATHROP, O.S.D., Hawthorne, N.Y.

The reason Vinol builds up weak, run-down women so quickly is because it contains a delicious combination of the three most successful tonics, peptonate of iron to enrich and revitalize the blood, the strength-creating, body-building elements of fresh cod's livers without oil, and beef peptonate.

CHARMING VERSION OF THE RUSSIAN BLOUSE.

brothered girdle, collar and belt-ends of satin are smart decorative features.

Women of youthful figure will find particular pleasure in wearing this Russian blouse of forest green broadcloth, with a self-girdle trimmed with rope silk and bead embroidery. The front and back are in panel effect, while the sides are pointed. Provision is made for a lower straight edge, however. A collar of heavy satin and streamers of the same material are also attractive features of the costume. In average size, 4 1/2 yards 54-inch material and 3/4 yard 40-inch satin are required for the blouse and skirt.

In order that the cutting may be done in such a way that the lines of the blouse will be retained, it is well to study the cutting guide carefully. First fold the material, then along the lengthwise fold place the collar, as shown in the diagram. Opposite the collar, on a lengthwise thread, arrange the front section, and to the right of the front place the sleeve. The back is laid on a lengthwise fold of material, as is also the belt, but the belt is cut crosswise. Lay the cuff and yoke on a lengthwise thread. If desired, the front ends of the wide belt may be made of contrasting material from 3/4 inch forward of slot perforations. The small "o" perforations about the neck are for the open neck effect. There are also small "o" perforations along the lower edge of the blouse to determine the shape that may be preferred, both round and pointed outlines being favored.

The silk and bead embroidery adds considerably to the beauty of the blouse and can be used on serge as well as broadcloth. The model is one of the most pleasing gowns in which the blouse has been presented.

Forest green broadcloth is used for this smart Russian blouse. An em-

Following the reception to the pastor, who responded with an appropriate address, the ladies surprised him with a bountiful supply of foodstuffs. William H. Value of Trained Mind.
The thinking athlete gets more sport out of the games he happens to indulge in than he who is merely an exceptionally good natural athlete or one who is able to absorb the ideas of a trainer and carry them out in purely mechanical fashion. A trained mind to supplement a well-nurtured and trained body creates true zest and spirit for sport, a thing of which the mentally dull but physically superb athletes can know nothing.

Handkerchief Newspapers.
Pocket handkerchief newspapers were issued in England in the early part of the last century while journals were subject to the stamp duty. The editor of one of them, Berthold's Political Handkerchief, suggested that after six months' wear, if the ink washed out, he would buy the kerchiefs back again from his readers. The price of this novel newspaper was fourpence.

Mushroom Hunting Dangers.
The advantage of rattlesnake hunting over mushroom hunting seems to be that you know the snake is poisonous. As near as can be made out there seems to be one sure way of telling the character of your find, and that was described by a foreigner who asked if gathering mushrooms was not risky: "All right, most every day. Bimby somebody die, then we not eat for a week."

Explaining Dandruff.
Anybody who wants to know what dandruff is can memorize this little statement: "It is a disease of the sebaceous glands which open into the hair follicles and secrete an oily substance, and dandruff results when the glands become infected and commence to exude an inflammatory substance into the follicles to such an extent that it dries into flakes." Makes baldness seem unimportant.

Lack of Education.
You are not really well educated if you do not possess the knowledge which is essential in making a home what it ought to be. The girl who would stand aghast if asked to build a fire in the kitchen range, and would be as helpless to prepare a dinner or iron a shirtwaist as if she were called upon to translate from the Hebrew, has serious lacks in her education.—Exchange.

Surely in Hard Luck.
An old dandy appeared in the doctor's office one morning, plainly very low in his mind. The doctor, recognizing his old patient greeted him in his most inspiring manner. "Well, Elijah, how is the rheumatism these days?" "Pohly, pohly, sah!" replied Elijah dejectedly. "Believe me, Marso Doctor, I so just a movin picture of pain."

Shakespeare's Legs.
There is no authority for the opinion that Shakespeare had one of his legs broken in a drunken brawl outside of a sonnet written by Marlowe, himself a brilliant debauchee and notorious liar. Apart from Marlowe's diatribe, there is nothing to show that the great dramatist had a broken or deformed leg.

BRIGHTER CHILDREN

Children are probably brighter to-day than a generation ago—but are they stronger? That's a grave question. So many pinched faces, dulled eyes and languid feelings make us wonder if they will ever grow into robust, healthy men and women.

If your children catch colds easily, are tired when rising, lack healthy color, or find studies difficult, give them Scott's Emulsion for one month to enrich their blood and restore the body-forces to healthy action.

Scott's Emulsion is used in private schools. It is not a "patent medicine," simply a highly concentrated oil-food, without alcohol or harmful drugs. It cannot harm; it improves blood; it benefits lungs and strengthens the system. Your druggist has it—refuse substitutes.

A POPULAR VERDICT

Based on Evidence of Gettysburg People

Grateful thousands tell it—
Of weak backs made strong—
Of weak kidneys made well—
Urinary disorders corrected.
Gettysburg people add their testimony.

They praise Doan's Kidney Pills.
Gettysburg evidence is now complete.

Gettysburg testimony is confirmed:
Reports of early relief substantiated.

Merit doubly proved by test of time.
Let a Gettysburg citizen speak.
Mrs. E. H. Ridinger, 245 W. M. H. B. St., Gettysburg, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are not a new remedy in our family. We have used them for years for kidney disorders and pains in the back and they have always brought relief in a short time."

I got this remedy at the People's Drug Store when I was suffering from backache, chills and dizzy spells. It soon drove away the trouble."

OVER TWO YEARS LATER, Mrs. Ridinger said: "I can still say as I did two years ago when I gave a statement recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, that they are the finest kidney medicine in the world."

Pres. 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Ridinger has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

100,000 MEN IN RELIGIOUS PARADE

Protestants Hold Big Procession in Philadelphia.

130 BANDS IN LINE

Men's Societies and Church Organizations Pass Reviewing Stand for Five Hours.

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—For five hours Saturday night Broad street, from Columbia avenue to Moore street, was filled with marching men, participants in the Protestant men's parade.

As they marched the vast line cheered, to the music of 130 bands. It was conservatively estimated that at least 100,000 men paraded. Other estimates placed the number much higher.

And watching them, five deep in the streets were thousands more.

It was colorful, enthusiastic and filled with a variety of incident. The churches, with their first division of 50,000 men, carried the Bible through the streets alongside of the national flag.

The church division, made up of five sections in which organized Bible classes, Sunday schools, churches, headed by their ministers, started to pass the reviewing stand at north city hall plaza at 7:30. The last marcher reached the reviewing stand at 12:30 in the morning.

Every one of the 130 bands played "Onward Christian Soldiers" as the hands on city hall clock pointed to nine o'clock.

As the paraders passed the reviewing stand in even ranks of twelve men front, small flags over their shoulders and all singing "Onward Christian Soldiers," General Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., retired, and Rear Admiral George W. Baird, U. S. N., retired, remarked on the preparedness of the men of Philadelphia.

Leading the parade was Harry G. Gaunt, dressed as George Washington. The national, state and city flags were carried next, and then came the grand marshal, Samuel A. Wilson, president of the organization which fostered the parade, the Philadelphia County Federation of Protestant Patriotic Fraternities and Protestant Church Organizations. Twenty-four mounted aides followed.

The first touch of color came with the parade escort, the commanderies of the Knights of Malta. A uniformed brass band of twenty-two pieces and sixteen knights in crusader costumes, bearing eight flags, representing the eight original European nationalities, formed this section.

Then the church division, with its thousands of cheering, singing men, recalling the enthusiasm of the Billy Sunday tabernacle, began to march by. They seemed to have no end. The Simpson Memorial Methodist Episcopal church, with 1500 men in line, led this division, which was made up of Sunday school districts, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 11.

Churches from the northeastern section were in this division. Union Tabernacle church, with its own band, Boy Scouts, fifty-foot flag, and 1000 men, came along in a few minutes singing "Brighten the Corner." St. Michael's Lutheran Church, with the Boys' Band, and the Rev. George Schugard at their head, drew applause.

Each church followed a squad of men carrying an open Bible. Each church had its big flag and countless banners telling the name and growth of Bible classes. Automobiles, decorated in red, white and blue with the slogan, "God, Home and Country," appeared here and there.

JUDGE GIVES LEG FOR LIFE

Gangrene, From an Aching Corn, May Kill Cambria Jurist Yet.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 25.—In a final effort to save his life from the spread of gangrene, Judge Francis J. O'Connor, one of the best-known lawyers of Cambria county, sacrificed his right leg in a hospital here.

Physicians said that he might recover, in spite of his serious condition.

Recently Judge O'Connor experienced pain from a corn, and the usual remedies were applied; but gangrene developed, resulting in the operation.

Fifteen Years for Murder

Mauch Chunk, Pa., Oct. 25.—After being out all night, the jury in the case against Lewis Kohut, of Palmerton, for the murder of Fedor Klim, at Palmerton, on April 6, came into court with a verdict of murder in the second degree. Kohut was at once sentenced by Judge Barber to serve fifteen years in the Eastern penitentiary.

British Blacklist Forty-seven Ships

London, Oct. 25.—There was posted at the British Admiralty today a list of forty-seven neutral vessels, ten of which fly the American flag, with a warning to British shippers to be careful in chartering these ships, which are suspected by the authorities of being either controlled by German capital or engaged in an unneutral service.

Finger nails grow more quickly in summer than in winter. Those on the middle finger grow the fastest, and the thumb the most slowly.

BROKER SHOT TO DEATH

Franklin Voorhees Slain at Step of Chicago Home.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 25.—Franklin R. Voorhees, a Chicago board of trade broker, who had amassed a fortune within the last few months by buying ingredients used in the manufacture of ammunition for the allies, was fatally shot at the doorstep of his home, 1016 Hyde Park boulevard.

The murder is believed to be the work of war fanatics. But one shot was fired, the bullet entering the broker's body two inches below the heart. He died shortly afterward in Mercy hospital.

It is regarded as certain that at least two men are implicated in the shooting. A pair of nippers were used to pry a $600 diamond from its setting in Mr. Voorhees' stickpin. The escape of the slayers after the shot was fired was so quick that the diamond must have been removed beforehand. The police declare it improbable that one man held a revolver at Voorhees' head with one hand and manipulated a pair of pliers with the other.

The gem is believed to have been taken to throw the police off the track, as a diamond of like size, set in a ring Mr. Voorhees wore on his left hand, was untouched.

QUEEN MOTHER SENDS SYMPATHY

"Daughter Died a Martyr," Says Slain Nurse's Mother.

London, Oct. 25.—Queen Alexandra has sent a letter of sympathy to Mrs. Cavell, mother of Miss Edith Cavell, the nurse put to death by the Germans. Though eighty years old, Mrs. Cavell is still very active in occupying and interesting herself in her household duties, but the tragedy of her daughter's heroic death naturally has tended to take her mind away from the day's normal round.

To a friend who remarked that pride in the possession of such a daughter ought to outweigh all tendencies toward grief, Mrs. Cavell made the reply:

"Yes, as you say, my daughter died the death of a martyr, and that thought is sustaining me, and certainly does make me proud, but I am also a mother, with a mother's feelings, and for all my pride in my daughter's heroism I cannot help feeling sorely grieved."

KILL BIG BEAR IN RUSH

Hunters Barely Escape Fury of Mother Whose Cub is Tread.

Bellefonte, Pa., Oct. 25.—Henry Confer and a party of hunters from Marsh Creek went into the foothills of the Allegheny mountains to hunt raccoons.

Along toward midnight their dogs ran something up a tree, which the men supposed was a raccoon.

They all gathered around the tree; but hardly had they located there when there was a crashing of underbrush and a monster bear rushed upon them. Confer had a gun, and, having no time to take aim, he ran the muzzle against the bear's head and fired, killing the animal in its tracks.

The bear weighed 383 pounds, the biggest bear killed in Centre county in fifty years.

The hunters believe the reason the bear attacked them was because it was her cub the dogs had treed instead of a raccoon.

TRAIN KILLS MAN AND WIFE

Out for a Pleasure Ride in Their Auto at Lansdale.

Lansdale, Pa., Oct. 25.—William Hocking and wife were instantly killed here when the automobile Mr. Hocking was driving was struck by a shifting freight car on the Reading railway at Cox's crossing.

Hocking and his wife were out for a pleasure ride, and when they neared the Cox crossing, which is considered a very dangerous one, Hocking saw an approaching freight car, and according to the brakeman on the car put on full speed, but failed to clear the track by three feet.

The car struck the automobile in the rear swinging it around, passing over it and killing instantly both occupants of the machine.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

CHAFING DISH COMBINATIONS.

HERE are some chafing dish combinations which are considered good:

Chilly, wafers, crackers, lettuce sandwiches, election cake, cocoa.

Eggs a la king, toast, frozen apricots (supposed to be left over from dinner), oatmeal, macaroni, tea.

Creamed chicken, peas and peppers, buttered biscuit, sponge cake, coffee.

Creamed asparagus on toast, olives, peaches and cream, wafer jumbles, tea.

Mexican rabbit, olives, canned sliced pineapples, English tea cakes, tea.

Creamed oysters, toast, olives, fruit and nuts in wine jelly, whipped cream, tea.

These are simple little menus. So many chafing dish foods are served on toast or crackers, and at a simple lunch one does not need sandwiches.

Here are a few more menus that are more elaborate:

Cream of oyster soup, olives, salted nuts, bread and butter sandwiches, vanilla ice cream, maple sauce with chopped nuts, cake, coffee.

Sardine eclairs, olives, celery, creamed chicken on toast, cranberry tart, vanilla ice cream, with ample sirup and chopped nuts, coffee.

Sardine eclairs, chicken a la king, yeast rolls, tomato jelly, lettuce, French dressing, marquisettes, cocoa with whipped cream.

Tomato soup (reheated), oysters, bread and butter sandwiches, olives, pickles, pineapples and tapioca sponge, tea.

Sardine or anchovy eclairs, creamed oysters, crackers, coleslaw with nuts, pineapple or tomato sherbet or pineapple, celery and lettuce salad, coffee.

Salted nuts, sandwiches, olives, tomato rarebit, crackers, hot pineapple sponge, coffee.

Lettuce and egg salad, graham bread and butter sandwiches, creamed oysters with puff paste fingers, fruit cup, salted pecan nuts.

Crab flakes with tomato and green peppers, celery, olive, tiny baking powder biscuit, apricots on sponge cake, tea.

Coffee goes with about any kind of combination, and, as many drink it black on these occasions, it helps to make the meal more palatable.

One kind of sandwich is sufficient at a chafing dish luncheon. If salad is served one may use the little cheese crackers if cheese is not used in the chafing dish.

WOVEN WIRE FENCE IS BEST PLANT PEAR TREES IN ROWS

Problem Has Always Loomed Up High to the Beginner With Sheep—Put Barbed Wire on Top.

The fencing problem has always loomed up high to the beginner in raising sheep. It is not, however, a very difficult one if it is undertaken in an intelligent manner. It does not require heavy fence to hold sheep, but barbed wire will not make satisfactory sheep fence.

Most sheep raisers use a fence constructed of woven wire from thirty to forty-two inches high with from five to nine horizontal wires and sixteen to twenty stays to the rod. Any fence coming inside these limits if put up with a post each fourteen to sixteen feet will prove satisfactory for sheep.

If a thirty-inch woven wire is used, it should have at least one barbed wire on top of it. It usually pays to put one or two barbed wires on top of the woven wire, however, as this will make a fence that will turn horses and cattle as well as sheep.

Begin Preparations for Fair.

Look over the vegetables, flowers, and fruits and begin preparations for showing them at the county or state fairs. It is worth the effort even though a prize is not the result.

Good Distance Is Fifteen by Thirty Feet—Object Is to Obtain Larger Yields of Fruit.

A good distance for planting standard pear trees is 15 by 30 feet; that is, the rows are 30 feet apart and the trees 15 feet apart in the rows.

The object of this method is to obtain larger crops of fruit from the same ground until the trees become large enough to interfere with each other; then each alternate tree in the row is cut out, leaving the trees in the entire orchard at a distance of 30 feet each way.

This system has the advantage of more fully utilizing the land for fruit production until the thinning out becomes necessary.

Another plan is to plant the trees 20 feet apart each way. This distance will afford free circulation of air and abundance of sunlight, both of which are essential to well-developed and highly colored fruit.

Avoid Rheumatism Among Pigs.

If your barn and feed yards have a proper system of drainage, there will be little danger of rheumatism among your pigs. If you have not already installed a good system of drainage, do so now.

WHEN LETTERS WENT ASTRAY

A Near Tragedy That Was Happily Averted.

College student sits in his room smoking and writing letters.

First letter, Percy Walker to his uncle, Samuel Walker:

"My Dear Uncle—I write this my fortnightly letter to you to tell you that I am still doing very well in my classes—studying hard, devoting my whole time to my college duties. I haven't missed a lecture so far this term. You know I am very fond of athletics, but remembering your advice to be careful about letting sports interfere with my studies I have hung up the racket and the golf stick, contenting myself with poring over books. It is very hard now that the spring days are on to see the fellows going out in field costume for practice, but remembering your valued advice I resist the temptation.

"Then, too, I have taken advantage of your warnings about drinking and smoking. Cold water is good enough for me, and as for smoking, the smell of tobacco makes me sick.

"I hope you and my aunt continue in your usual good health and that your eyesight has improved. Tell Aunt Caroline that I am taking all the spring medicine she sent me. I am really quite fond of the herb tea, and the liver mixture is doing wonders for me. Tell her that I am heeding her advice not to throw off my overcoat too early in the spring and not to go out on damp ground without my rubbers. The muffler she so kindly sent me at Christ mas time I have worn constantly all winter.

"Be assured, my dear uncle, of my affection for you and my aunt and believe me, your devoted nephew.

"PERCY."

Second letter, Percy Walker to his fiancée, Miss Ruth Stevens:

"Dearest Ruth—Have just written uncle, and now comes the delight of writing to you. (Stop till I light a pipe.) I have to tell you the glorious news that I am first in winter practice in tennis and have won a place in the university crew. I've had more time for sports this term because I've chosen elective studies that don't interfere—the lectures, I mean—with the hours for practice. I am having a hard time in the spring examinations and for the last week have been 'boning' night and day. I hope to slip through—if my ponies don't go back on me—but regret that the confinement and lack of exercise may 'throw me' in my candidacy for a place in the football team.

"By the bye, I was forgetting to tell you that I gave a dinner in my room last week. The gang was too high mucky-muck for pipes, so I had to buy a box of cigars. This took my last dollar, and uncle's next check isn't due for two weeks. I wish I dared ask the old rooster for an extra. He'd send it quick enough, but it would give me away. I'm telling him I have only term and hash bills to pay, and he knows my allowance is plenty for that.

"Mind, sweetheart, when you see uncle to tell him that I've taken a prize. It's for singles in tennis, but he'll think it's for a thesis in Greek. And tell Aunt Caroline that I've been invited to take the superintendency of the Sunday school. They'll consider me too modest to write these things and will think all the more of them coming from you. Goodbye, love. With a billion kisses, your loving PERCY."

Enter a gang of students to discuss the makeup of the baseball team for the coming season. When they leave the letter writer is about to leave, when, seeing his letters, he puts them in envelopes and hurriedly addresses them. Then he runs after the athletes.

Third letter, Miss Ruth Stevens to Percy Walker:

"Dearest Percy—You naughty boy! You have sent me by mistake a letter to your uncle. (Great Scott, I must have sent her letter to uncle! Oh how I laughed when I read it! (For heaven's sake, it's no laughing matter!) You ought to be ashamed of yourself—you devoting your whole time to your studies! Cold water good enough for you? The smell of tobacco makes you sick?

"I think you'd better go back to school and learn to write. It was all I could do to read your letter. You must be careful. Some day you'll be sending one of your letters to me to your uncle."

Soliloquy: That's just what I have done. Ruth stares me in the face. Uncle will stop the funds, and I'll have to leave college, and that when I've just got where I wanted to get on the team! Well, goodbye, alma mater. I'll go to some sweatshop or other where I'll have to come down to flogging other people's filthy lucre.

Fourth letter, Samuel Walker to his nephew:

"Dear Percy—Yours of the 11th inst. received. Your handwriting is so bad that I can't read it. I suppose it is a request for money, so I inclose a check for $100. Your affectionate

"UNCLE."

"P. S.—Don't go out of your room if you can help it on these damp spring mornings. There is a great deal of pneumonia about."

Soliloquy: By thunder, what an escape!

Her Amendment.

He (seeing his wife making up before her dressing table)—Any one would think you were going to the party as "A Study in Scarlet."

She—Oh, no, dear! Only "Under False Colors."—Judge.

Everything Worth While.

Never think yourself too insignificant or the thing too mean. You and it have an infinite capacity for absorbing, storing away, raying out glory.—J. F. W. Ware.

Bridal Customs in Spain.

In Spain a bride has no girl attendants to stand at the altar with her, but instead a "madrina," or godmother. Neither does she have a wedding cake nor any festive going away after the ceremony. The wedding pair depart quietly to their new home, where they remain until the following day, when they start on their honeymoon. Before departing they pay a formal visit to their respective relatives.

Stark Realism.

An advance agent for a theatrical production was speaking to a newspaper man with reference to the wonderful powers of the leading woman.

"Do you know," he said enthusiastically, "that in New York, when she appeared as the dying mother in the last act, an insurance man who had written her a policy for $10,000 actually fainted in the theater!"—New York Times.

His Mistaken Idea.

"But, my dear," remonstrated Mr. Meekum, "there's a good deal to be said on both sides."

"No, there isn't," answered his spouse. "I've told you what I think about it, and that's all that is going to be said."—Chicago Tribune.

Peculiar Flint Rock.

J. C. Oliver of Woodstock, Vt., has a white flint rock somewhat smaller than a man's fist. Through one end of it is an irregular hole smaller than a lead pencil, caused by a vein of iron which had rusted out. The long root of a dock plant has grown through the hole, flinging it solidly and extending some distance in the ground beyond.

No Argument Coming.

"Did you speak to father about me, Arthur?" "Yes, I did, dear, and he agreed with me heartily." "Then he said I might marry you?" "Why—no, I didn't quite get to the point of asking him that. I just said you were a fine girl."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Real Definition.

An applicant for a teacher's certificate in Kentucky answered an examination question by defining "blunderbuss" as "kissing the wrong girl." Dictionary or no dictionary, we would have given that girl a first-class certificate.—Houston Post.

If Hair Is Turning Gray, Use Sage Tea

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This "on always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.
